

This calendar is optimized for Press. There are shortened descriptions and links to hi-rez photos for each event. The 3 main highlights of the festival are listed below.

One City One Pride (May 22 to June 30)

For the 7th Annual One City One Pride LGBTQ Arts Festival, the City of West Hollywood celebrates the 1 year anniversary of Marriage Equality in California with 40 days of arts, culture, education and community, all with the theme 'I Do.'

A year ago, the Supreme Court rendered decisions allowing for marriage equality in California and striking down the Defense of Marriage Act as unconstitutional. Hundreds of marriages were performed in the days following the decision, right outside the City of West Hollywood's Council Chambers. In celebration of this monumental day, the theme for the 2014 One City One Pride LGBTQ Arts Festival is 'I Do,' a statement which represents an affirmation, a promise, a commitment, and a celebration of love.

One City One Pride runs from Harvey Milk Day (May 22) through the end of June (June 30), featuring visual art, theatre, performance art, music, film and more. A full list of over 30 events is viewable at weho.org/pride, but just a few of the highlights that we are sure you'll love are:

- May 22, 7:00 to 9:00 pm - Love is Love: The Five Year Road to Marriage, a special exhibition celebrating the struggle for marriage equality featuring photos taken at Prop 8 rallies across Southern California. Please join us for a special reception on Harvey Milk Day, May 22, from 7 pm – 9 pm featuring classical renditions of pop songs by Queertet, and special comments by the Mayor and photographer David McCoy. West Hollywood Library, 625 N. San Vicente Blvd., free admission.
- May 31, 8:00 to 11:00 pm - ONE Night, a spectacular outdoor digital art event in WeHo Park featuring projections on an inflatable balloon and music & dance performances by Kate Crash and Kate Johnson, produced in collaboration with ONE National Gay and Lesbian Archives, EZTV and LA ACM-SIGGRAPH. This event is a recreation of an installation created to celebrate the opening of the Pacific Design Center's Green Building in 1988, when the West Hollywood-based EZTV gallery was an epicenter for digital art and computer graphics during its formative years. West Hollywood Park, 647 N. San Vicente Blvd., free admission.
- June 21, 3:30 to 6:30 pm - A Midsummer Afternoon's Queer Wedding Reception. You, the audience, are the guests at a special wedding reception featuring some of Southern California's most cutting-edge queer musicians and performance artists, all curated by Planet Queer and Apt 3F. The show will be followed closely by 'Behold the Bridegrooms' an exploration of the poetry of James Broughton on the 100th anniversary of his birth at 7pm. Plummer Park's Fiesta Hall, 7377 Santa Monica Blvd., free admission.

Many events are free, with some requiring ticket purchase and/or advance RSVP. For a full calendar, sortable by genre and additional info on events, please visit www.weho.org/pride or call 323-848-6377.

5/22 – One City One Pride Kick-off / 'Love = Love: The 5 Year Road To Marriage' Photo Exhibit Reception

(Visual Art)

On Harvey Milk Day (May 22) the City of West Hollywood will kick off One City One Pride with an opening reception for a new exhibit at the West Hollywood Library 625 N. San Vicente Blvd., from 7pm-9pm.

The reception will feature classical renditions of pop songs by string quartet 'Queertet' themed around love and marriage in celebration of this year's theme, 'I Do.'

Special comments will be made by Mayor John D'Amico and the photographer of the exhibit, David McCoy. David McCoy is a filmmaker and photographer for the Love Is Love documentary and community awareness project following grassroots LGBT activism in Southern California. This exhibit is a selection of prints from his collection of thousands of photos, highlighting everyday people in West Hollywood and the Greater LA area fighting to repeal Prop 8.

5/31 - ONE Night: EZTV, LA ACM SIGGRAPH, and Digital Art in West Hollywood

(Community)

NOT TO BE MISSED! This event is an evening of performance and large-scale digital projections onto an inflatable balloon hovering over the West Hollywood Park and exterior walls of the West Hollywood Library, in conjunction with the exhibition "EZTV: Video Transfer" at the ONE Gallery.

ONE Night is inspired by an earlier projection event organized by digital artists Ron Hays and Joan Collins in March 1988 to celebrate the opening of the Green Building at the Pacific Design Center. The event, Sky Work, similarly included a large inflatable balloon onto which intricate digital projections were displayed. ONE Night seeks call attention to this event as well as other early digital art programs that occurred in Southern California during the 1980s.

ONE Night will feature new and historical projections by a number of artists with deep ties to both LA ACM SIGGRAPH and EZTV including Rebecca Allen, Joan Collins, Dave Curlender, Ed Emshwiller, Ron Hays, Kate Johnson, Shelley Lake, Michael J. Masucci, and Vibeke Sorensen, among others to be announced.

Additionally, ONE Night will premier a live performance by Donna Sternberg & Dancers: Fly-By will feature dancers in duets with flying drones, each equipped with wireless cameras transmitting live video footage. The performance features music by David Raiklen, and a virtual "avatar dancer" transmitting live from The Hague by Vanessa Blaylock. The evening will conclude with a performance by musician Kate Crash.

Presented by ONE National Gay & Lesbian Archives, EZTV, LA ACM SIGGRAPH, and the City of West Hollywood through its Arts and Cultural Affairs Commission.

6/6 – Dyke March/Lavender Menace

(Community)

Come to a free Friday celebration of women featuring two highly anticipated artists, both of whom have recently had career highlights, including a performance at the Grammy's, to an adorable viral video that has gone on to reach millions of viewers across the world. Mary Lambert, best known as the powerful female voice on Macklemore and Ryan Lewis' "Same Love," headlines for the annual free event honoring women. Lambert recently stole the spotlight at the 2014 Grammy awards where a mass wedding that included all loving couples eligible for marriage took place on national television and made headlines around the world.

Australian pop superstar Betty Who makes her pride debut on the LA PRIDE stage with her hit "Somebody Loves You." The song, which shot to popularity after being used in a same gender wedding proposal filmed at Home Depot, became an internet darling and secured a spot at the top of music charts and in the hearts of people across the globe. 6/7-6/22 - Jay R. Lawton: Project 50

(Visual Art)

Jay R. Lawton (1961-2013) was a Los Angeles-based photographer who devoted much of his work recording the Leather/Fetish/Kink community. A constant presence at leather title contests, bar events, and pride festivals, Lawton was the primary documentary recorder for the vibrant world of men and women engaged in the alternative lifestyle of sexual freedom and tribal camaraderie. Prior to his death, Lawton had finished shooting Project 50. In his memory, friends and community members raised the funds to complete his final legacy work. The Jay R. Lawton Collection is a part of the collections at ONE Archives at the USC Libraries.

In his own words:

"Project 50 is an ongoing effort to photograph 50 gay men who are 50 years or older. The objective is twofold: on one level it is an effort to dispel the common impression that if you are gay and over 50 you are no longer considered desirable. This is often an internalized feeling for men over 50, so the second objective is to address this by providing these men the opportunity to confront these fears and display to themselves and to the world the unique qualities that make them attractive. These men are survivors. They were at their sexual peak during the AIDS crisis and many of them, myself included, never dreamed that they would live to see this age. This is the common thread that underlies this series of images." Presented by: ONE National Gay & Lesbian Archives

Shows on select dates from 6/7 to 6/22 - Queer Classics Presents: The Importance of Being Earnest

(Theatre/Performance)

One of the most popular comedic plays ever written: this time it's gay! Two couples fight for the right to be engaged in this masterful satire written by Oscar Wilde, arrested for "gross indecency with men" in 1895. This timeless story galavants through a world obsessed with appearances, money and social-status. The parallels with today's Hollywood Culture make for searing fun and by presenting the four lovers as dashing gay men, Queer Classics reimagines the play more hysterically fabulous than Oscar could have imagined possible in his lifetime.

6/10 - Big Joy: The Adventures of James Broughton film screening

(Community)

A new documentary about embracing your passions and becoming the person of your dreams, based on the life of James Broughton, a California native who would have been 100 years old this year and a most unique voice in queer liberation.

"Follow Your Own Weird" was the maxim by which James Broughton (1913-1999) lived each and every day. A pre-Beat-era poet, underground filmmaker, lover, gay man and artist who dared to live boldly and experiment wildly, Broughton is the subject of the documentary film, Big Joy: The Adventures of James Broughton. Whether as an out poet during the oppressive and anti-gay McCarthy era or as the bard of the modern gay rights movement, James' expansive life inspired thousands towards "Big Joy".

Film and poetry weren't the only ways James manifested art and beauty into being. He was a charter member of the Sisters of Perpetual Indulgence, a queer service organization, giving to the community for many years as Sister Sermonetta of the Holy Phallus. James was also an early bard of the Radical Faeries, a counter-cultural movement that redefined queer identity through spirituality. In 1988, he acted as San Francisco Pride Festival's Grand Marshall. Even in times of extreme oppression, James acted openly and with joy. "There was a time when being gay was not only shunned, it was punished," said co-director Eric Slade. "our story depicts this time period and the triumph of one who lived through and beyond such oppression."

6/15 - June Mazer Lesbian Archives presents 'Baby, You Are My Religion' a reading

(Community)

Join the June Mazer Lesbian Archives for a reading by Dr. Marie Cartier from her book, Baby, You are My Religion - Women, Gay Bars, and Theology Before Stonewall.

Baby You Are My Religion argues that American butch-femme bar culture of the mid-20th Century should be interpreted as a sacred space for its community. Before Stonewall these bars were the only place where many could have any community at all. Baby, You are My Religion explores this community as a site of a lived corporeal theology and political space. It reveals that religious institutions such as the Metropolitan Community Church were founded in such bars, that traditional and non-traditional religious activities took place there, and that religious ceremonies such as marriage were often conducted within the bars by staff.

6/21 - A Midsummer Afternoon's Queer Wedding Reception

(Theatre/Performance)

NOT TO BE MISSED!

APT 3F and PLANET QUEER present a fun, interactive, queer take on wedding receptions for One City One Pride's Make Music Los Angeles Day. Our queer groomsmen welcome you to their public, fairy-themed reception inspired by Shakespeare's A Midsummer Night's Dream and featuring some of LA's most talented LGBTQ singer-songwriters and bands. In between the musical performances, our glittery and colorful wedding characters celebrate the nuptials with queered wedding rituals including dances, cake-cutting, toasts and special performances. This FREE outdoor festival invites you to participate on the patio of the beautiful Fiesta Hall or to bring a picnic and socialize on the grass outside in Plummer Park. Join us as we celebrate queer relationships of many varieties, new and old, as well as the one-year anniversary of marriage equality returning to California. Music, makeup and mayhem in your face – one afternoon only! Presented by: APT 3F & Planet Queer

6/21 - Behold the Bridegrooms Revisited

(Theatre/Performance)

Performance artist Jason Jenn brings to life some of award-winning filmmaker and poet James Broughton's most love-infused and inspired poetry alongside a group of several local performing artists who will create a colorful staged reading and reinterpretation of Broughton's luminous 1978 marriage to partner Joel Singer. The wedding text is full of poetic beauty and splendor that stands as a monument to queer love and sexual liberation. James Broughton was a California native who would have been 100 years old this year and a most unique voice in queer liberation, as well as an original member of the Radical Faeries, The Sisters of Perpetual Indulgence, and a pre-beat poet who was part of the San Francisco Renaissance movement. The recent documentary film "BIG JOY: The Adventures of James Broughton" has brought this important figure back into the light (There will be a screening of BIG JOY on June 10, 2014 at 8pm in the City Council Chambers as part of One City One Pride).

The presentation will include a slide show of rarely seen photographs from "Behold the Bridegrooms: A Connubial Masque for James and Joel", which took place on board the hundred-year old ferryboat SS Vallejo belonging to the Alan Watts Society for Comparative Philosophy. It will be an inspiring and uplifting evening testifying the astounding power of love and a look back at an underappreciated LGBTQ figure. Presented by: ReEvolutionary Productions

6/27-6/28 - Interface: The Marriage Project

(Theatre/Performance)

INTERFACE: The Marriage Project is a two-week artists-in-residence program with MULTIPLEX DANCE culminating in a new work titled "I Do" that will feature members of the LGBTQ community performing with MXD dancers in two shows that correlate with Marriage Equality Day, the day the Supreme Court made same-sex marriage legal in California again.

"I Do" will integrate live dancing with video projections and audience interaction via mobile devices and social media. Dancers will share testimonies via video confessionals of their personal experiences relating to issues of equal rights and move through these experiences in dancing conversations with each other and MXD dancers. The show will also feature two additional works by MULTIPLEX DANCE.

6/28 - Opening Reception for "The Classical Nude and the Making of Queer History"

(Visual Art)

Organized by the Leslie Lohman Museum for Gay and Lesbian Art and curated by scholar Jonathan David Katz, "The Classical Nude and the Making of Queer History" investigates the continued centrality of the classical nude over centuries of art making. The exhibition explores how images of the classical past have acted as recurring touchstones in the historical development of same-sex representation, and as such, constitute a sensitive barometer of the shifting constructions of what we today call gay and lesbian or queer culture. The classical past is thus gay culture's central origin myth, and its representation offers far more information about the culture that appropriates the classical past than it does about that past itself. In tracing this trajectory of the classical nude across history, this show concentrates on four major periods: Antiquity, the Renaissance, the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, and the modern/contemporary periods.

This exhibition at the ONE Archives Gallery & Museum is a condensed preview of a groundbreaking exhibition that will open at the Leslie Lohman Museum in New York in October 2014. Presented by: ONE National Gay & Lesbian Archives
