(Deadline to submit: 12/31/2019)

Date Issued: July 18, 2019

PROFESSIONAL WRITING SERVICES — PROJECT DESCRIPTION

From time to time, the City of West Hollywood requires highly qualified and experienced writers for a wide array of City projects. The City is currently gathering qualifications from interested writing professionals to establish a pool of individuals who can provide writing services on an as-needed basis.

ELIGIBILITY

This Request for Qualifications is open to experienced and professional writers with demonstrated training and experience in news writing, feature story development, interviewing, copy, content writing, editing, proofreading, and ongoing story development on City projects — some with quick turnaround times and some with extended timelines. The City of West Hollywood seeks writers with proven professional experience and the ability to translate sometimes-complex information into easy-to-comprehend written content for an array of audiences. The awarded contractor(s) will provide writing, copy-editing, and proofreading services that include creating written content for projects including campaigns, ads, articles, blogs, emails, electronic newsletters, and more. Writing tasks may include making structural changes to technical content to help the narrative flow and emphasize crucial points; checking that research is well-substantiated and clearly delineated; and crafting text that has the appropriate level of detail for audiences that may include elected officials, decision-makers, stakeholders, reporters, and specific audiences within the West Hollywood community, such as residents, businesses, and more.

SELECTION PROCESS

The City of West Hollywood's Communications Department staff will convene a minimum of three times on a regular basis and as needed to review submissions through this Request for Qualifications period, which ends on December 31, 2019.

The City's Communications Department serves as the office of primary responsibility for day-to-day hiring and management of writers providing Professional Writing Services. All pieces submitted will be subject to editing and production notes by the City's Communications Department. The writer will be expected to adhere to City of West Hollywood style and voice guidelines.

The selected contractors shall provide writing and copy editing on a range of writing projects requiring different techniques and styles to suit the medium and the audience. The selected writer shall interpret and translate complex ideas and findings into accurate, yet easy-to-understand language, write for the intended audience, and process and apply feedback provided by the City's Communications Department.

Writing for the City of West Hollywood requires familiarity with the City of West Hollywood's community, history, and areas/topics of public policy. Contractors will be expected to review and adhere to principles and standards set forth in the City of West Hollywood's Communications and Community Engagement Strategic Plan.

As part of the onboarding strategy, Communications staff will meet with the selected contractors to share the goals of the Communications Department and information regarding specific projects. In addition, the selected contractor(s) must adhere to the City of West Hollywood's Brand Guidelines and Associated Press style guidelines, which should be applied to all work products requested under the scope of work.

SCOPE OF WORK

The selected contractor(s) shall provide writing and/or copy-editing on a range of writing projects requiring different techniques and styles to suit the medium and the audience. The selected writer shall interpret and translate complex ideas into accurate, yet easy-to-understand language, write for the intended audience, process and apply feedback provided by City of West Hollywood Communications staff. The objective, timeline and deliverable for each writing and editing project will vary in frequency and length.

Projects may include, but are not be limited to:

- Creating, editing and proofreading copy for articles and short-and long-form blog posts intended for publication on City of West Hollywood digital properties, and other external websites, such as news outlets
- Creating copy for external stakeholder and internal communication campaigns, including broadcast emails
- Writing opinion/editorials
- Creating monthly news briefs documents
- Creating advertising copy

Other projects may include summaries of past and current topics of interest to the City of West Hollywood, such as reports, strategic plans, and other items to create compelling original articles.

SCHEDULE + BUDGET

Qualified writing professionals will be scored and applicants, if deemed to pass with by rating of a selection committee, will be issued a contract for services. The issuance of a contract is not a guarantee of work; rather, it is a pre-qualification.

Following the establishment of a contract, project(s) may be assigned on an as-needed basis. Each project will require an approved scope of work with estimated hours, rate/fee, not-to-exceed amount, and a purchase order issued by the City's Finance Department before work may begin.

Prior to commencing work, the consultant must attend an orientation with Communications Department staff. For each project or assignment, the City of West Hollywood's Communications Department and successful applicant will agree upon the timeline and process, such as when drafts are due for review and an approximation of how many rounds of edits will be required to bring a project or assignment to completion.

SUMMARY OF DESIRED QUALIFICATIONS

The following qualifications are desired:

- Three or more years of experience producing written content for decision-makers and elected officials, such as executive summaries and blogs to demonstrate thought leadership
- Three or more years of experience producing written content for media and news outlets, such as op-eds and blog posts
- Experience in interpreting and translating complex topics, such as budget proposals, policy briefs, and research findings into easy to understand language that appeals to a wide audience
- Experience in producing a variety of written content under aggressive timelines
- Background in journalism and/or PR is preferred
- Ability to attend meetings at City Hall offices as needed is preferred
