Please review this document completely before beginning application.

ABOUT THE ORGANIZATIONAL DEVELOPMENT GRANT (3-YEARS)

The City of West Hollywood's Organizational Development Grant supports non-profit arts organizations with an interest in strengthening their organization's infrastructure. This grant is intended for newer, smaller and/or less-experienced non-profits, or established nonprofits undergoing organizational transitions, with budgets generally under $100,000 and often volunteer run.

This grant category provides two benefits for nonprofit arts organizations: 1) supporting the organization's mission to provide arts programming; and 2) supporting the organization by specifically funding technical assistance to improve its ability to fundraise, develop audiences, and build its creative capacity.

With its first successful application, the organization will be awarded a three-year contract ($5000 each year). The organization is required to select a technical assistant from a pre-approved roster. The grantee organization is required to pay the selected technical assistant $5000 for consulting services, for each of the first 2 (two) years of the funded period.

Technical assistance support is to provide a short-term consultancy of approximately 40 hours, per year, depending upon the consultant's hourly rate, to gain new skill, knowledge, systems, or other organizational tool that the organization can then incorporate into its operations and practices when the consultant concludes their work plan with the organization.

Grantees who are awarded funding this category are required to produce 1 (one) presentation (performance, workshop, event) during the third year of the funding period.

Grantees who are awarded funding in this category are required to attend the West Hollywood Artist Bootcamp during their funded period. This highly sought-after program will provide grantees additional tools and resources essential to an organization's professional growth.
