Being homeless is a worse punishment than jail—No meals, housing, shelter, protection, etc.—And Concerning the Discharged from jail; my items are still "lost" at the police station after a week; No one knows where my bag is—It is most inconvenient to be released without a phone, money, or ANY BELONGINGS!!! And the one must hunt down their belongings between 3 different stations. Also, to be treated as a pariah in Jail just because I had PrEP medication; The police thought I had HIV until the nurse told them otherwise.

As a gay man, I don't need to leave west Hollywood—As was threatened by the sherrifs; I could already see how that's the underlying hegemonic beliefs of the city of west Hollywood because there are anti-homeless architecture everywhere—including the no loitering signs; Just say the Quite part out loud: which is you don't want any homeless people around—Instead of being Pusillanimous about it; If you can build anti-homeless architecture, you can build gas chambers; Congratulations, you're on your way to becoming Natzi-esque. Lift people out of poverty instead of demonizing their condition.
